RE: Membership Verification for Dr. James Farley, DC

To Whom It May Concern:

The Infectious Diseases Society of America (IDSA) is an organization of physicians, scientists, and other health care professionals dedicated to the promotion and recognition of excellence in research, patient care, public health, disease prevention, and education in the field of infectious diseases and associated disciplines.

Dr. Farley is an active member of IDSA, contributing to the field of infectious diseases both scientifically and professionally.

James Farley, DC has been a member in good standing since May 2017. The initial criteria met for joining IDSA were:

- Continuing professional identification with the field of infectious diseases
- documented participation in an accredited postgraduate training program in infectious diseases
- nominated by the program director of an accredited ID Fellowship program (as well as an IDSA Member or Fellow if the program director is not a member of the society)

Should you have any questions, please feel free to contact me at ndanskey@idsociety.org.

Sincerely,

Nathan Danskey
Director of Membership
